

PRESS RELEASE

On May 3, 2016, the court case CV2-13-0040-CAO, under process in the Macau First Instance Court, was dismissed, after SHFL Entertainment (Asia) Limited ("SHFL") withdrew its claim against Natural Noble Limited, Mr. Jay Chun, LT Game Limited and Paradise Entertainment Limited.

SHFL initiated the said judicial proceeding claiming and requesting the Court, inter alia:

- (1) to declare that any of the Patents I/150 and I/380 cannot have as object all and any technical solutions that permit to play, electronically and in real time, one or more games of baccarat (or others) in casino through multiple gaming terminals, and that involve a human croupier; and consequently
- (2) to order that the aforesaid entities and/or individuals refrain from proceeding with such affirmations or, through any other form, invoking or claiming such exclusive right, before the general public and the media, or being in contact with potential parties interested to acquire such technical solutions in the Macau Special Administrative Region; and
- (3) to order that the aforesaid entities and/or individuals refrain from suggesting, hinting or, in any other form, creating in third parties the belief that they are owners of such right; and more specifically
- (4) to order that the aforesaid entities and/or individuals refrain from affirming or claiming or, in any way, invoking publicly or before any agents or intervenient in the market that they are owners of all and any technical solutions in which the concept of multi-gaming is implemented.

SHFL also claimed that such conducts portrayed an abuse of the intellectual property rights and infringed the rules of fair competition.

Consequently, the court also decided that SHFL shall pay all court fees relating to the aforesaid court case.

The aforesaid entities and/or individuals, being respondents in the said judicial proceeding now terminated, have always refuted all allegations put forward by SHFL and restated its rights under the relevant patents registered in the Macau Special Administrative Region.
